Wild Children III: The Wild Life, based on WBLL Activities

Long before the arrival of Europeans on the Canadian prairie, the First Nations people lived in a 1)..... relationship with their natural surroundings. Every item of their culture, from sewing needles to homes was 2) ..... from nature. Their homes were called teepees and were like large tents made from the skins of deer.

They had horses, although horses came to North America after escaping from the Spanish explorers who brought them here to explore the areas around Mexico and Texas. Boys and girls were both expert riders. They did not use saddles or reins or stirrups; they rode "bareback". Their clothes were made from deer skins and buffalo skins and decorated with the parts of other animals.

These children of nature did not ever have to go to school. They did not have to study to get into a prestigious college, 3)...... did they have to worry about finding a job after graduation. This does not mean their life was 4)....... The winters were very long and very 5)...... and there were sometimes wars between tribes. There were also the very great dangers involved in the buffalo hunt. Warriors rode at top speed (with no saddle) 6)...... the huge buffalo shooting arrows to bring them down. The chances of a buffalo turning 7) ...... or of falling off the horse were very great. We must remember that there were also 8) ...... hospitals in those days.
